

A 10x10 grayscale grid representing a noisy image of a handwritten digit '4'. The grid contains various shades of gray, black, and white pixels, with a prominent black cross-like shape in the center. The background is black, and the digit '4' is formed by a combination of white and light gray pixels. The central cross is black, indicating a significant corruption or noise in the original image.

